Production of renewable energy

we are concerned with the production of renewable energies from renewable raw materials - bio-mass. the result is btl-diesel, which in its properties comes very close to the din en 590 and has better properties in many. our concept is about to be realized. for this we offer investors the opportunity to participate. it can be in the form of a loan with a very good interest rate or in the form of a silent participation or a direct shareholding.

the concept is bank-tested.
