Bar Pop-up

Hello,

I am looking for interested partners for my gastronomy concept (adventure bar).

The concept, which has already proven itself in America, is built on three pillars and is intended to become the "sports bar for reality TV fans". Rounded off with the right beverage offerings and corresponding gamification aspects, this opens up a completely new market.

For a pop-up project I am looking for curious restaurateurs who are open to a new highlight after the reopening.

I am not tied to any location and can offer the concept throughout Germany - and the surrounding area are only preferred due to my current life situation.

If you are interested, please contact me by direct message and we can exchange ideas without obligation.

I'm glad to hear from you!
