Business with patented Artificial Intelligence

Because of retirement, I sell my business with 60 commercially developed software programs for Windows PC, in all spheres of Natural Language Text Processing. The C/C++ code compiles on VS and can, eventually, be moved for use in Online applications. One U.S. patent for Automated Reasoning in Natural Language, with developed German and English prototypes, is included in the sale.

The patented method is integrated in my German and English chatbots. No income. No profit. Only competitive know-how, as evidence by our evaluation and commercial software. Inspection of the source code (compiling it, etc.), payment and delivery will take place in Switzerland, in the presence of a Notary.
