Communication and foreign language training

For 30 years, we have been conducting foreign language and communication training in well-known companies in Cologne and the surrounding area with great success. Some companies have been among our regular customers since our school was founded. Our long-standing 15 to 20 freelance trainers train managers and other employees in German, English, French and Japanese. In addition, we conduct presentation trainings as well as intercultural trainings, especially impatriate trainings. Our customers appreciate our tailor-made professional trainings and the inquiries are constantly increasing. During the pandemic, we easily switched all face-to-face training to online training and, with a few exceptions, it has stayed that way. The range of training courses can certainly be expanded and sales can be further increased. For reasons of age, the school is for sale.
