Agency with event management software for B2B matchmaking events for sale

Do you want to expand your company or product portfolio or would you like to become self-employed in a promising market? Then our company is interesting for you. We have developed a professional event management platform for digital, hybrid and face-to-face events and have been distributing it in a Software as a Service license model since . In addition to the license fees for the use of the event platform, our company generates revenue through complementary products and services in the event and software segment. We offer our customers various service packages that provide them with optimal support in the implementation of their events. If required, we can take over the complete technical support of the events, so that our customers can concentrate on the design of their lecture program and the promotion of their event.
