An exclusive Swiss skincare brand that combines luxurious care with the highest effectiveness. The products combine state-of-the-art active ingredient technology with exquisite ingredients and set new standards in terms of skin health and radiance. They stand for quality, innovation and elegance – developed for discerning customers who value visible results and a unique care experience.

We are a luxurious Swiss skincare line that stands for the highest quality, innovative formulations and timeless elegance. With a clear focus on visible results and sustainable skin health, we develop skincare products that combine science and exquisite ingredients in a unique way.

Of particular note is that one of the leading scientists, who previously worked at La Prairie, led the development and formulation of our products.
