Metal Construction Company

A metal construction company (property and machinery) is being sold, which once employed 200 people. Series production of mesh boxes was carried out. The machines, various presses and punches as well as fixtures are mostly still in place and the mesh boxes are still needed in the industry. The location is not far from the German border and is conveniently located for transport. These are approved buildings (the painting is also approved, which is a big advantage.) Electricity is not a problem. With some renovation, production can continue there without any issues, and skilled workers are also available in the region.
