Group of companies for sale " independent companies as a complete package (crafts, services, real estate)

For sale is a group of companies consisting of several legally independent companies, which are offered together as a complete package.

All companies have been established on the market or have started successfully. The structure is structured in such a way that each company is operationally managed by a specialist or master craftsman, while strategic development is centralized. As a result, the companies are both individually functional and particularly strong as a group.

The trades are interlinked and make it possible to handle projects holistically. The majority of the companies work closely together and are partly under one roof, which creates short distances and efficient processes.

The sale is expressly made as a complete package.
