I am looking for a small or mediumsized company for succession or management buyin with the goal of a later acquisition.

After finishing my studies in finance and controlling, I would like to enter a company, work operationally in the business, take responsibility and after a transition period take over the company as part of a succession.

I am mainly interested in companies in industry, manufacturing, logistics or B2B services. A stepbystep transition together with the current owner is preferred.

Own capital for a future acquisition is available. The focus is on longterm continuation and development of the company.
