Fence trade

The market for fences and gates is growing steadily, driven by an increasing need for security among private individuals, companies and in agriculture. The margins in the fence trade are attractive, especially when sales are combined with assembly services. The website/domain name, contact details of dropshipping suppliers, fence fitters and more are handed over. An induction takes place. Turnover class 40k. If you are already active in the industry as a fence builder, but do not yet have your own webshop, trading in fences would be a good additional income. Online retail is location-independent. With the shop you have no monthly fixed costs (subscription fee, etc.)
