Werbemittel-Handel from BW is looking for growth financing or investment partnerships as part of a strategic scaling. Managed by an owner with 15 years of industry expertise, the company combines efficient in-house finishing (laser and sublimation technology) with a market-proven business model.

The next step is a fully developed, intelligent scaling concept that achieves an above-average margin through a clever business model. The company is ready for the next step in development and offers ideal partners – preferably with their own customer base – the opportunity to enter a highly scalable model with grown know-how.
