Look for Corporate follow-up, firm follow-up, follow-up Maintenance

Who will continue to run your business if you want to let go one day?

We are four experienced executives with a technical and commercial background from Thuringia and are looking for an established medium-sized company for long-term takeover as part of an age-related company succession.

We are united by the desire to continue successful companies in the long term. Our goal is not the short-term acquisition as an investment or a later resale, but the long-term continuation and further development of the company.

In doing so, we attach particular importance to the preservation of jobs, customer relationships and established corporate structures. We know that behind every firm there are many years of hard work, responsibility and personal commitment. We would like to continue this life's work with respect and corporate responsibility.
