Shareholder / Investor / Silent Partnership Wanted: Exclusive Language Travel Spain with Award-Winning Language Learning Method

To set up a high-quality language course in Spain, an investor, partner, silent partner or strategic partner is sought.

The project is based on an award-winning language learning method that has already been awarded and tested by the media. The method is particularly aimed at managers, entrepreneurs, self-employed people and executives who not only want to learn a foreign language theoretically, but also actively speak it and put it into practice in a short time.

The plan is to market it as an exclusive Spanish language trip in Spain. The offer combines intensive language training, a high-quality travel environment, personal support and a special learning method that differs significantly from classic language school lessons.
