Pr Agency

Experienced, competent PR all-rounder is looking for partners for an existing public relations agency (GmbH) in Munich. I was active director of the agency until 2002 (then 7 employees); i then "got out" for private reasons. Now I want to start again, but not alone. We are looking for a PR professional, necessarily with a professional background of several years, male or female. He should actively pull together with me and also be strong in the acquisition. My main areas of focus are: conception, text, PR campaigns, PR actions, event organisation, crisis PR, media contacts, budget management and control, GmbH management. I have worked for almost all industries except IT and financial services.

Offers from steam chatterers, self-proclaimed PR experts, dubious multi-level networkers, call center agents, etc. are not answered.
